Hold the Line

If every one of Christ's believers
Was stretched out in a line
It would reach throughout eternity
From the very birth of time.
But sometimes our faith is tested
Till it seems like it might end.
Dear precious Saint, look up and stand,
Here's a message from a friend!

*Hold the line! Hold the line!
Your name is in our Savior's heart
In His Book, right next to mine!
He's coming back in Glory,
In His will and in His time.
My friend, don't fear, don't falter,
Hold the line!*

This world is much like Sodom,
As sin attacks His child
And everywhere we look it seems
There is no "meek and mild".
"Ere sin would seek to crush you
Beloved, take a look,
His story's written history
Go read the "back of His Book"!

*Hold the line! Hold the line!
Your name is in our Savior's heart*

*In His Book, right next to mine!
He's coming back in Glory,
In His will and in His time.
My friend, don't fear, don't falter,
Hold the line!*

One day He'll come in Glory!
It's part of God's own plan,
To take this line of Christians home
Into His promised land
Where those born-in-Christ await us
No sin, no death, no time.
Rejoice! Rejoice! He's coming!
Dear believer, now's the time!

*Hold the line! Hold the line!
Your name is in our Savior's heart
In His Book, right next to mine!
He's coming back in Glory,
In His will and in His time.
My friend, don't fear, don't falter,
Hold the line!*

When that trumpet sounds, I'll see you,
In Heaven or in the sky.
Take comfort, be encouraged,
Hold the line.
